Administrative history / Biographical sketch

Note

Claude William Black, Jr. (November 28, 1916- March 13, 2009) was one of San Antonio's most indefatigable advocates for the equal rights of African Americans. He graduated in 1937 from Morehouse College in Atlanta, GA, and earned a Master Of Divinity degree at Andover Newton Theological School, Newton, MA, in 1943. He attended Trinity University in the early 1970s in order to complete graduate coursework in the Urban Studies department. Records documenting the following aspects of Reverend Black's life are included in the collection.

Ministry: In 1949, Reverend Black became pastor of the Mount Zion First Baptist Church, and served there for 49 years until 1998, after which he continued as Pastor Emeritus. He returned as interim pastor from 2005-2008. He created service organizations for the elderly, the poor, and the hungry, and started the first African American, church-owned credit union, Mount Zion Federal Credit Union. In the 1950s and 1960s, Reverend Black and other African American community members staged peaceful, civil rights protests that led to integration of lunch counters at local motels and at Joske's Department Store, theaters, parks and other public spaces. Reverend Black belonged to multiple religious organizations, such as the San Antonio Council of Churches and the San Antonio Ministers Association. One of these, the Baptist Ministers Union, was very active in church-related civil rights actions, one of which the scrapbook about the Billy Graham Evangelistic Rally (July 25, 1958) fully documents.

Politics: From 1973—1977, Black was elected City Councilman for the City of San Antonio and was appointed as the first African American Mayor Pro Tem. He was invited by President Lyndon Baines Johnson in 1966 to participate in the White House Conference on Civil Rights and by President William Jefferson Clinton in 1995 to participate in the White House Conference on Aging. The scrapbooks in the collection are especially focused on Reverend Black's political campaigns and concerns.

Community: Black served on boards and committees with numerous community organizations, particularly those that would benefit the traditionally African American East side of the city. He was often invited to speak at civic and ceremonial events, as can be seen through the letters of invitation in the correspondence and letters section. Reverend Black received certificates and proclamations in his honor throughout his life that acknowledge his prolific activity.

Note

ZerNona Stewart Black (February 7, 1906-January 24, 2005) worked extensively with service organizations, with her husband in civil rights activities, and fulfilled the many duties of a pastor's wife. Originally from Muskogee, Oklahoma, a YWCA assignment in 1943 brought her to San Antonio to run the local Negro USO Club. She met Reverend Black shortly after her arrival, and they married in 1946. She was an educator, teaching college courses and Mount Zion First Baptist Church bible school programs. Mrs. Black received a speech and education degree from Emerson College, Boston, Massachusetts and later pursued graduate courses at various universities, including Trinity University. She taught at Langston College in Langston, OK, and at St. Philip's College in San Antonio. She co-founded Health, Inc., an elder daycare agency, as well as a local chapter of Jack and Jill, Inc., promoting programs for African American youth. She was Executive Director of the Eastside Senior Citizens Project, and helped to run Project F.R.E.E. (she kept the records of Project F.R.E.E. and Health, Inc., two church-affiliated organizations). She headed the church drama ministry and numerous church councils. She worked as a YWCA Chairman and as a volunteer and youth supervisor with the Guadalupe District Baptist Association. She received many honors and awards for her generous service to the church, seniors, women and mothers, children, and to the community at large.

Scope and content

The personal papers of the Reverend Claude William Black, Jr. and his wife, ZerNona Stewart Black document their civil rights, community activism, and Baptist ministry activities, predominantly from the 1940s through 2008, in San Antonio, TX.

The 100 cubic feet collection spans the early 1900s through 2009 (the year of Reverend Black's death). The bulk of the papers are relevant to Reverend Black's activities, with approximately one-fifth related to ZerNona Black's endeavors. Included are: audiocassettes, reel tape, videocassettes and movie film of events, sermons, and addresses; handwritten sermons and accompanying notes; annotated periodicals, including rare and specialized journals such The Crisis (NAACP), African Forum, and other African American publications; scrapbooks of memorabilia, ephemera and news clippings, about San Antonio and national events; communications with local and national leaders, including A. Philip Randolph and Martin Luther King, Jr.; photographs and slides of community and personal events; awards, certificates and governmental proclamations; appointment books and daybooks; extensive records related to activities of Mount Zion First Baptist Church and additional organizations.

Series 1: Mount Zion First Baptist Church Records, 1940-2007

The collection includes detailed records of the Mount Zion First Baptist Church kept over 50 years of Reverend Black's ministry there. These records include financial, annual meeting notes and reports, details on mission activities, event brochures, funeral programs, Sunday service pamphlets, The Messenger newsletter, scrapbooks, photographs, and published histories of the church.

Series 2: Personal and Family Records

Personal files primarily include records about family members and friends, assorted family letters and correspondences, and daily planners and notes.

Series 3: Local Government Materials

The local government records contain the campaign and city council-related materials of Reverend Black from 1965 through 1977. The overall range of materials spans 1950 through 2008, and includes documents that originate from local government offices, including the City of San Antonio and Bexar County; documents that pertain to the the years of 1973-1977, when Reverend Black served as a member of City Council, and as the city's first African American Mayor Pro Tem; documents that relate to issues of local government that originate from a variety of sources, such as neighborhood organizations and coalitions; information from individual politicians; and documents from bodies with close local government affiliation, such as the City Public Service Board. The documents reveal Reverend Black's long interaction with government as an individual and as a minister.

Series 4: Organizations

Extensive files by and about organizations reflect the Blacks' participation and interest in local and national programs. Included are the records of the Mount Zion First Baptist Church-affiliated organizations of Project F.R.E.E., Health, Inc, and New Community Builders, Inc.; records related to organizations and conferences such as the Baptist Minsters Union, San Antonio Mothers Organization, Economic Opportunities Development Corporation (EODC), the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), The American Baptist Convention, and the 1966 White House civil rights conference, To Fulfill These Rights.

Series 5: Writings

The writings are primarily dated and undated sermons, sermon notes, talks and editorials by Reverend Black, with a small quantity of talks and notes by ZerNona Stewart Black.

Series 6: Correspondence and Letters

The records include extensive electronic correspondence with Morris T. Johnson from 1966 through 2007, carried out mostly via email or fax. The conversations cover issues of the day and scriptural topics, most often in the tone of lively debate. Mr. Johnson has resided in Los Angeles, California for many years, served in World War II as one of the Tuskegee Airmen, and graduated from Harvard University Law School.

The series also includes letters from Maury Maverick, Jr., Apolonio "Arnold" Flores, and extensive personal, professional and political communications.

Series 7: Printed Materials

The series includes extensive subject files that include photocopied articles from newspapers, magazines and journals; notebooks that primarily contain materials printed from the internet; reports, newsletters, photocopied book excerpts; newsclippings from local (many documenting the Blacks' activities) and national newspapers; magazines and journals, many of which are annotated or rare; books; awards, proclamations, and certificates; and ephemera, such as local event brochures, directories, and calendars. The topics covered by the files reflect Reverend Black's research interests throughout the years: education, poverty, housing, class relations, race relations, politics and political figures, aging, the health system, the economy, jobs, homosexuality, human relationships, religion, theology, scriptural interpretation, incarceration, the death penalty, the Middle East, and the African American experience.

The newspapers included in the series are primarily local African American issues, such as the San Antonio Register, SNAP News, the San Antonio Informer, and the San Antonio Observer.

Series 8: Scrapbooks

The series includes eleven scrapbooks, the bulk of which document the local government activity and interests of Reverend Black from the 1960s to the 1970s.

Series 9: Visual Materials

The series include photographs, slides, photographic albums and scrapbooks, and guestbooks, primarily created by ZerNona Stewart Black.

Series 10: Audio Recordings

The series includes twenty-two open reel tapes of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) radio broadcast series, Martin Luther King Speaks, It also includes sermons, talks, radio talks, and church and community events and conferences recorded on open reel tape and audiocassettes, many of which include Reverend Black as a participant.

Series 11: Audiovisual Recordings

The series contains videocassettes of talks and recorded church and community events, many of which include Reverend Black as a participant. Also included are three reels of 16mm movie film (no soundtrack), in the "home movie" genre, which document the Blacks' travels through the United States, Europe, and the Middle East, as well as local family and community occasions. One movie film includes a brief appearance by the civil rights leader A. Philip Randolph.

Series 12: Computer Disks

The series includes one hundred and fifty 3.5-inch floppy disks, unprocessed; eighty 5.25-inch floppy disks, unprocessed.

Series 13: Realia

The series includes a Grundig Niki portable open reel tape recorder (two track, 3 3/4 ips recording) and assorted personal and political memorabilia.

Series SC.001-03: Local Government Materials

Scope and content:

The Local Government series contains the City Council campaign and associated council materials of Reverend Black from 1965 through 1977. The overall range of materials span 1950 through 2008, and includes documents that originate from local government offices, including the City of San Antonio and Bexar County; documents that relate to issues of local government that originate from a variety of sources, such as neighborhood organizations and coalitions; information from individual politicians; and documents from bodies with close local government affiliation, such as the City Public Service Board. The documents reveal Reverend Black's longtime interaction with government as an individual and as a minister. Box 19: Folder 1-16; Box 20: Folder 17-25

Subseries SC.001-04-02: Educational Organizations and InstitutionsScope and content:

Reverend Black attended St. Philips College in the early 1940s. He earned a Bachelor of Science from Morehouse College (1937) and a Master of Divinity degree from Andover Newton Theological School (1943). He was awarded an honorary Doctor of Divinity degree from Huston-Tillotson College in 1982. He worked on various educational boards for the advancement of Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCUs), and was employed in the early 1940s by Bishop College (Marshall, Texas) and Mary Allen College (Crockett, Texas). Reverend Black also pursued coursework at Trinity University, enrolling in the 1970s in Urban Studies courses taught by his long-time friend, Dr. Earl Lewis. ZerNona Black earned her Bachelor of Arts degree at Langston University (1938), Oklahoma. She attended Emerson College in Boston, Massachusetts, where she earned a Bachelor degree in Education (1936). She would eventually teach at Langston University and St. Philip's College (San Antonio, Texas). Many of the records in this series are relevant to relationships with these institutions over time. ### Subseries SC.001-07-01: Subject Files

Scope and content:

About the Subject Files sub-series: Folders named "Articles" contain photocopies of articles primarily from magazines and journals; those dealing with African American persons, or issues as they relate to African Americans are in the folders marked "Race Relations." The folders titled "Notebooks" are named as such because over the years Reverend Black kept many three-ring notebooks into which he put materials printed from the internet; reports, newsletters, photocopied book excerpts, and a variety of materials that reflected his interests at the time. The binders themselves have been discarded for preservation purposes, but the order of materials in the notebooks has been kept. Items removed from the notebooks are the church newsletter "The Messenger" (now gathered in tSeries 1) and the correspondence with Morris T. Johnson (now in Series 6). The remaining materials in the sub-series are described by item title. Box 46: Folders 1-10; Box 47: Folders 11-23; Box 48: Folders 24- 38; Box 49: Folders 39-55, Box 50: Folders 56-70; Box 51: Folders 71-86; Box 52: 87-97; Box 53: 98-108

Subseries SC.001-07-04: Newsclippings
Scope and content:

Box 55: One box of newspaper clippings from national, Texas and local newspapers. These clippings have been photocopied. Folders in this box include some San Antonio coverage. OS Box 11: Two oversized folders that contain original clippings that focus on San Antonio and on Reverend Black and ZerNona Stewart Black. These are minimally processed. All of these clippings may be consulted on site and have also been digitized (these files are stored on our server).

Subseries SC.001-07-05: Books

Scope and content:

The books included in the collection are a very small sampling of Reverend Black's personal library. Only some of the books will be listed in the finding aid. Box 78 and Box 79 contain some of the many bibles owned by Reverend Black. Books not in boxes are shelved in Room 203. They may be found in the Coates Library catalog by using the search "Claude and ZerNona Black Papers" under the "author" category. Photographs taken of the shelves in one room of the Black home are also available.

Subseries SC.001-10-01: Martin Luther King Speaks

Scope and content:

The Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) began broadcasting Martin Luther King Speaks, a weekly thirty minute radio program, in early 1967, with staff members producing and distributing the programs out of SCLC's New York office. Martin Luther King Speaks moved to the Atlanta office in 1972. After 1973, SCLC continued to produce programs but distribution was handled by radio networks. The radio program was broadcast, with interruptions in service, at least through 1979. Martin Luther King Speaks regularly aired the speeches and sermons of Martin Luther King, Jr. The leadership of SCLC also used it to publicize campaigns and direct action efforts, with Ralph David Abernathy and other staff members frequently appearing on the air. [The preceding text as well as descriptive text for Programs 7049, 7051, 7052, 7103, 7104, 7136, 7137, 7140, 7142, and 7149 is used (with kind permission) from the Emory University Southern Christian Leadership Conference records, 1864-2007 finding aid, Sub-series Martin Luther King Speaks, found here: <http://findingaids.library.emory.edu/documents/sclc1083/series19/subseries19.1/>] Locally, the program was mailed to and aired on KAPE Radio station, at 608 E. Travis Street, San Antonio, Texas, 78205. The tapes were addressed to Franklin Collins, Program Director. The tapes were mailed in boxes that originated from Frequency Productions, Inc., 1105 Maple, West Des Moines, Iowa 50265; from Avery & Elkins, Inc., 653 Eleventh Avenue, New York, NY 10036; from Martin Luther King Speaks/SCLC, Box 97, Washington Bridge Satation, New York, New York 10033; or from Martin Luther King Speaks/SCLC, 475 Riverside Drive, New York, New York 10027. Box 64: Items 1-11; Box 65: Items 12-22 NOTE: All Martin Luther King Speaks programs listed below have been digitized and are available for listening via the reading room only as copyright is held by the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.
